

Day four: 12.09.08

The 9th of December. After breakfast the group walks to the church of San Miquel and celebrate the Mass of the Day. Flowers are everywhere and are a residue of the feast of our Lady. Really, their display and placement are laid out by veritable artists and are evidence of a strong devotion to the Mother of God. This is evident not only in the building and artistry of the in and outside of the church but by the present day decorations. We wrap up our tour of the city, mount our bus and start out on the long trip to the city of Mexico. We arrive at dusk and are ready for our hotel but the traffic is so heavy it takes an unusual amount of time to arrive at our destination.
